

The background of the cover is a photograph of a modern, two-story house at dusk. The house has large glass windows and a wooden exterior. A wooden walkway leads to the front entrance. The sky is a deep blue, and the interior lights of the house are on, creating a warm glow. The title 'UTAH Style & Design' is overlaid on the top half of the image.

WHY BE SHY?

Four Utah powder rooms tip the scales of fearless design.

1. Raised-panel wainscoting—brush-painted in Benjamin Moore's Fiddlehead Green—delivers a dramatic backdrop for the gold-framed mirror, Herbeau faucet and antique French garden wall sink furnishing this unique powder room in Holladay. Design and build by The Fox Group.

2. Inside the Vivint Courtside suite at Vivint Smart Home Arena, a floating wall with an integrated white quartz sink and cutouts fronts a backlit wall of frosted acrylic framed with raw steel. Tile resembling black, textured concrete clads a nearby wall. Design and build by Ezra Lee Design + Build.

3. An envelope of deep-blue, crocodile skin-embossed wallcovering teams with a modern vanity of marble and satin brass in a Montage Residence's chic powder room. Design by Jennifer Chipman, Alder & Tweed Design.

4. In a Park City home, a marble runner moves down the back wall and across the floor of a porcelain tile-clad powder room, stopping in the middle to form a spectacular, custom pedestal sink. The sculpture-like sink is framed with floating cabinets and Leucos wall sconces. Design by Marian Rockwood, MHR Design.
